Army Comes To The Rescue

ROCKDALE
About 500 people in the Praesel addition just outside the southern city limits of Rockdale on FM 487 were facing a critical water shortage Monday until Fort Hood's 418th Transportation Co. came to the rescue with a shuttle system of big water tank trucks. Carrying 5,000 gallons of water per truck, the Fort Hood unit began a quick emergency fill of the addition's underground 30,000 gallon water reservoir, with Praesel's pumps lifting the water into the 70,000 gallon overhead storage tank.

Gas Co. Asks Increase

ROSEBUD
The Lone Star Gas Company has asked the Rosebud city council to consider a proposal for raising local gas rates for residential and commercial consumers. Lone Star is seeking a flat 10 percent increase. The city granted a rate increase of 24 percent to the gas company which was effective Dec. 1, 1969.

New Youth Center Opened

CALDWELL
The Caldwell Chamber of Commerce has recently sponsored and helped organize a Youth Center in downtown Caldwell. A board of directors of young people has headed the renovation of the old Jennings building for the center, and has chosen the name "The Bitter Inn" for the new recreation facility.

Amtrak To Stop At Temple

TEMPLE
Conditions appear to be ripe for Temple's selection as an intercity stop on Amtrak's proposed U.S. to Mexico passenger railroad route, Washington sources said. Other intercity stops are expected at San Antonio, Austin and Houston. The U. S. - Mexico route, connecting the Mexican National Railroad lines at Laredo, would eventually link and international system reaching Canada at Vancouver and Montreal.

YDF Cites Ed Laywell

Ed Laywell of Cameron has been cited as an outstanding 4-H adult leader by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation. He and Mrs. S. A. Winn of Austin were recognized as the top adult leaders in District 10 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H.

Both were honored at a special luncheon June 7 in the Memorial Student Center on the Texas A&M University campus along with 25 other adult leaders from across the state. All were presented a special plaque.

Judge Signs Order Halting Dam Projects

AUSTIN
Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U. S. 5th Circuit Court signed an interim stay order halting construction of three reservoir projects on the San Gabriel River opposed by environmental groups and citizens. Austin attorney Richard Shannon said Wednesday the case is expected to be heard on written documents, without appearance by those involved.

Shannon, representing the plaintiffs, said the U. S. Attorney's Office is to file its reply by Tuesday.

An emergency panel of the court then will decide what to do on the request for a temporary injunction pending appeal and will make some disposition of the case.

Laywell, a funeral director, has been an adult leader in Milam County for 11 years. He is currently serving the Cameron 4-H Club which has 55 members. His involvement in beef and sheep projects has resulted in several 4-H'ers winning honors at stock shows in Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

He is chairman of the Milam County Junior Livestock Show Association and has been active on the livestock show committee for the past 11 years.

"Ed is a tireless leader and one that you can always depend on," says Danny Phillips, assistant county agent. "He has spent many hours working with 4-H'ers so they would have a chance to win at a county or district show."

Band Members Score At State

Six members of the Yoe High Band went to the State Solo and Ensemble Contest June 3 in Austin at The University of Texas.

Kathy Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Price, made a second division on her bass clarinet solo and won a silver medal. Her accompanist was Susan Haag.

Gary Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Meyer, made a third division on his clarinet solo.

The woodwind quintet, consisting of Kathy Price, Paula Fleming, Carolyn Perkins, Trisha Burnett and Sue Ann Kennedy made a third division on their ensemble.

Dalton Harbers is band director.

School District Due Bond Issue

A school bond issue in the neighborhood of $1 million will be offered to school district voters around September, it was announced this week by School Supt. D. R. Dodson.

The announcement came following Thursday's school board meeting at which board members accepted job descriptions from the architect's firm of Mathis and Associates of Bryan.

Work is planned for all the school plant, including extensive renovations. Additional classrooms are planned for Ben Milam Elementary School and classrooms and lab rooms are planned for Yoe High. Other new construction will include a new gym and field house. Renovations at Ada Henderson includes new restrooms and work on the cafeteria.

The architect is still working on plans and a definite amount for the bond issue will be set at a later date.

Supt. Dodson said the work will probably take years to complete and noted that "it has been so long since anything's been done to the schools."

In other business at the board meeting, trustees heard a letter from M. W. Schlatter, Executive Director of Region 6, Education Service Center, citing Cameron's general program in grades one through 12, and its special education department. The letter cited five schools in the region.

The board hired Nelson Huffman as freshman coach and track coach, and Miss Jane Burns as elementary teacher.

Letters of resignation were read from Don Wiggins, principal of Cameron Junior High, and Susan Looney, teacher. Mrs. Looney's resignation was accepted, but trustees disagreed on Wiggins' resignation.

Vote on his resignation was 3-2 opposed to accepting, with one abstention. Supt. Dodson said that vote was a "compliment" to Wiggins, who had been granted a new three-year contract earlier in the year. His present contract would expire in 1973.

After discussion, Mrs. Reeves Brown, who had abstained on the first vote, offered a motion to reconsider Wiggins' resignation. The motion passed and the ballot was spread on accepting or rejecting the resignation. Vote was 4-3 to accept.

The ballot was again spread (secret vote) on the issue of whether to change board policies to allow "unders" (children under 6 years old) to enter first grade. The request had been made at an earlier meeting by the Bernay Duseks, whose child's birthday is Sept. 2. School policy gives Sept. 1 as the cutoff date for children entering school at six years of age.

The vote was 5-2 to refuse changing the policy.

A. G. Edwards and Son of Bryan was appointed as fiscal agent and financial advisor for the bond issue.

Frank Luecke, Cameron Herald publisher, appeared before the board to request additional tennis courts for a growing population of tennis players. Trustees viewed the request with favor and agreed to try and incorporate this into its building program.

The board awarded a contract to Best Steel Bldgs. of Houston for construction of a new band hall for the junior high school. Bids were also opened on time warrants for purchase of two new school buses. Bid was awarded to Citizens National Bank which offered 3.75 percent interest on the warrants.

McGovern: Radical Vs. Coalition

It appears that Sen. George McGovern is heading for a first-ballot nomination as the Democratic presidential nominee. The California and other primary wins put him in a commanding position.

Sen. Muskie again is being mentioned as a vice-presidential nominee during the August Democratic National Convention, an honor he held under the candidacy of Sen. Hubert Humphrey in 1968.

From the response at the National Governors Conference in Houston, Sen. McGovern is not selling too well to National Democratic governors. Gov. Smith, for example, had an appointment, according to the daily press, which his aides were unaware of. McGovern came into the conference. Vice-President Spiro Agnew also was in town but that is another story.

It is predictable that McGovern is going to run into flak at the national convention. These primaries are representative for party purposes, but in numerous cases a minority vote won by a minority viewpoint.

George Wallace figures in this McGovern move and one observer said he, Wallace, disagrees with 90 percent of what McGovern urges in his "radical reform" in income tax improvement, social questions and other issues.

Both Sen. Humphrey and Sen. Muskie may endorse McGovern's candidacy as this goes to press. But this "Prairie Populist" as he is being described, a fine man and former college professor, is apparently the only Democrat able to do what Muskie and five or six others could not do in the party primaries.

But the problem of making "radical reform" popular, as opposed to coalition political reform in Texas, is quite another thing.

What Others Say...

Journey To...?

John Connally of Texas is off on a journey. President Nixon sent him. It is to be a month's tour of 15 countries on three continents. But that is only the beginning of a journey. And where it all ends is known only to Richard Nixon.

For those who enjoy political speculation we list the range of possibilities.

The most obvious is that Mr. Connally is being groomed to take over the State Department in the second Nixon administration when Henry Kissinger, having redrawn the map of the world and seeing no further challenges in Washington worthy of his Metternichian skill, will have withdrawn to Harvard and allowed the planning of foreign policy to flow back to the State Department. Mr. Connally could be guaranteed under such circumstances to revive the once prestigious, now languishing, senior department of government in Washington.

Lower in probability but higher in interest is the theory that Mr. Nixon thinks Mr. Connally would be just the right running mate for November. This theory assumes that Spiro Agnew has outlived his political usefulness to Mr. Nixon and could, to the advantage of the party, be replaced by a man with supposedly enormous appeal to the conservative Democrats throughout the Southland.

Least probable but most intriguing is the "Osborne theory". This, named after the New Republic's Nixon-watcher John Osborne, is that Richard Nixon, a well-known and famously successful poker player, might be the first American president to apply to politics the poker rule, "get out when ahead."

By August when the Republicans gather in Miami, Mr. Nixon may be well ahead in the political game. He already has his enormous Peking and Moscow spectacles behind him. He may well by that date have a deal with Hanoi for ending the Vietnam war with the prisoners safely back home. And it is just possible that both unemployment and inflation will be down enough to be noticeable. At that point he would be way ahead of the games.

But suppose that he stays on, runs in November and is re-elected. Where would he be four years later? The Moscow treaties could have gone sour. The American economy could be back in the doldrums. A second four years in the White House could well mean everything to lose and nothing more to gain. He could be at the absolute peak in August. And why not get out when that far ahead leaving Mr. Connally as his legacy to his party?

We ourselves place a high mark for plausibility on the first of these three theories. Our inclination is to dismiss the third as to be almost incredible. Yet, think of how many surprises Mr. Nixon has already arranged. And remember how much he enjoys his surprises. And reflect on the thoughts which must flit through his mind when he thinks of Lyndon Johnson down on the ranch in Texas.

With all this in mind we think we will keep the "Osborne theory" on our list of possible endings for Mr. Connally's journey, just in case. -- Christian Science Monitor

Security For Governors

"Leadership is hell." That quote from a political leader came to mind during the 64th annual National Governor's Conference in Houston last week. It's darned tough to serve as a public official these days.

Not just presidents, vice-presidents and candidates for president have their lives threatened -- but governors and candidates for governor face physical threats these hectic days in America's political history.

This fact was brought to mind by the extremely tight security measures at the host hotel for the National Conference for state chief executives.

Security police, Texas Rangers, and state patrolmen almost outnumbered the governors, aides, newsmen and guests who were allowed to observe the proceedings at the important annual function of state heads of government.

Mrs. George Wallace, wife of the Alabama Governor, had six security men surrounding her when she moved around the corridors of the hotel.

When Vice President Spiro Agnew arrived, Secret Service men were all over the place. Even the hotel employees wore photo identification badges -- reminiscent of defense plant and Navy installation days of World War II. We heard no complaints -- except from one elderly hotel janitor who kept kicking up walky-talky conversations between the security police on his hearing aid.

The three-day program of the state's chief executives was an "economic war" of sorts.

Principal topics of the conference revealed that financial problems are their top concerns -- as they reviewed revenue sharing with the Federal government, financing of elementary and secondary education and funding the "war" against crime and drugs.

Host Governor Preston Smith and his staff and a hospitable Houston made the serious problems easier to study with a well-rounded entertainment program for the Governors, their families and staffs. An outdoor pool-side Texas western party, (appropriately by the world's largest swimming pool, according to the hotel staff), and excellent transportation organization delivering guests to all Houston entertainment and tourist facilities -- and a formal ball with Duke Ellington's Orchestra completed the lighter side of the serious meeting.

Other important topics of interest to Texans covered at the Conference were: diversification of industry to rural areas, a resolution requesting the appointment of a farmer as next Secretary of Agriculture of the United States; a NASA economic impact report for the states and the role of the states in national growth patterns. National political intrigue made the Conference more interesting with visits from Sen. George McGovern and Sen. Hubert Humphrey -- and the appearance of Mrs. Wallace.

SPECIAL SESSION MEETS
The Legislature convened in special session at midweek under lame duck leadership in both houses and the governor's office.

Gov. Preston Smith, defeated in his bid for re-election, pledged to offer a 1973 budget which would require no new taxes and, indeed, to allow no consideration of taxation. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, also defeated for governor, said Smith should show lawmakers how he proposes to trim appropriations.

House Speaker Rayford Price was defeated in his home district, as was Rep. Bill Finck of San Antonio, chairman of the budget writing House appropriations committee.

Legislative Budget Board -- which includes Barnes, Price and Finck among its members -- calculated that even a "tight" 1973 budget would require $89.2 million in new revenue.

After a day-long session, the Board concluded its staff would just have to get together with Smith and see what he had on his mind. The LBB staff drawn budget called for $828.2 million in spending during the next fiscal year -- or $89.2 million less than the revenue forecast.

Virtually certain to land on the special session agenda is new state officials' code of ethics legislation. Barnes said he will press for such a bill, and a House committee prepared its own version.

LEGISLATURE ALTERED
Primary elections assured a drastic shakeup among rank and file members of the legislature as well as the top leadership.

There will be at least 76 new members in the House of Representatives -- a majority. The turnover rate is the highest since 1953 when 88 freshmen representatives took office. The November general elections may remove a few more of the incumbents, and no more than 74 present House members are assured of returning.

The Senate turnover rate is almost as high. At least fifteen of 31 senators will be freshmen next year, and Republicans conceivably could gain another place.

Former House Speaker Gus Mutsaers was among the veteran incumbents defeated.

Defeat of Price in the House set off another scramble for speaker. Rep. Price Daniel of Liberty claimed he already had the job racked up with 89 to 100 votes. Rep. Frank Calhoun of Abilene challenged him last week, expressed doubt that Daniel had anywhere near a majority and said he will begin his own campaign with about 50 dependable votes from moderates and conservatives.

North Vietnamese Infiltrate Delta

By Mark Meredith
Reuter Correspondent

VI THANH, South Vietnam

The government's hold on much of South Vietnam's densely populated Mekong Delta appears as fragile as the mud-walled outposts manned by militiamen defending the rice-rich region.

Here in Chuong Thien province, at the center the 15 delta provinces forming a triangle pointing into the south China Sea, Viet Cong guerrillas patrol infiltration routes within this provincial capital.

Government officials estimate there are nearly 5,000 communist troops in the province.

The war in the delta has been less spectacular than on the other three main South Vietnam fronts -- around Hue in the far north near Kontum in the central highlands, and surrounding An Loc north of Saigon.

There, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces are engaged in conventional assaults on government lines, backed by tanks and sophisticated weaponry.

Here in the canal-interlaced delta, the fighting is more characteristic of the long drawn out of Vietnam conflict: jungle warfare with a reliance on sabotage, terrorism and lighter rocket and artillery equipment.

But the strain is becoming worse for the government troops as hardened delta infantry units are pulled out to support the northern fronts, leaving local forces and militia to hold the enemy.

"I really don't know if we can handle it," one U.S. adviser in the delta area told correspondents.

Although Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have launched over 800 ambushes or attacks since early April, it is believed here that this does not nearly represent the full capabilities of the communist forces.

There objectives in this fertile rice-growing area, according to officials here, appear to be the same as on the other fronts -- a land-holding operation.

"They want to claim to have liberated as much land as possible by the time a ceasefire comes about," the officials said.

"We have some of the meanest parts in the delta," said U. S. Col. Joh Meese, province senior adviser.

He explained that to the south of the district, travel is only possible by helicopter. "Much of that land belongs to Charles (the Viet Cong)."

The colonel and other officials calculate that there is a general movement of communist troops out of the U Minh forest which borders the Gulf of Thailand, and towards sparsely populated areas near the Cambodian border where the Mekong River flows into South Vietnam.

The view is prevalent that eventually North Vietnam would like to increase pressure on the southwestern flanks of Saigon.

In Chuong Thien province there are 218 outposts each manned by 20 to 25 militiamen -- the least experienced troops among all South Vietnam's armed forces numbering over one million.

Since the start of the offensive, 21 outposts have been overrun by the communists and many others have been abandoned.

$2 Million Spent On Primaries

AUSTIN

More than $2 million has been spent to cover the costs of the May 6 and June 3 primary elections in Texas. Secretary of State Bob Bullock said today.

"We have distributed, as of June 3, $1,604,415 to Democratic executive committees and $396,709 to Republican executive committees to cover costs for holding the primary elections," Bullock said.

"These figures represent 75 per cent of the actual expenses which the local party chairmen estimated."

"This figure is some $300,000 to $400,000 more than our original estimate, which was made back in April so that the money could be appropriated," he said.

"We made every effort to keep the expenses down by establishing maximums on the number of election clerks that could be paid at each polling place and by disallowing all items not properly payable for the primary fund."

'Car Care For Women' Proves Popular Course For College

By Charles Ward
Reuter Correspondent

TAMPA, Fla. Three years ago Hillsborough Community College here started an eight-week course in "Car Care for Women." Surprisingly, the classes in auto maintenance have been so popular that more than 200 women have taken the eight-week course. This is no powder puff course. The women wear overalls and meet at the Humble Oil Company training center which is used during daytime hours to train owners and managers of Humble Oil service stations throughout the southeastern United States.

Here the women -- no men other than Nick Lawasaka, the instructor, are admitted -- learn about car operations, cost of repairs, how to cut excessive bills.

Lawasaka, a former employee of General Motors, said he became interested in teaching such a course when he realized how little his wife knew about the car she was driving.

"Of course, women are uninformed," he said. "Nobody bothers to tell them anything about their car. Yet 90 per cent of car repairs could be cut down by preventive maintenance. This should be taught along with drivers education to our Teenaged drivers."

Lawasaka stressed that "What's underneath is important." His students spend a lot of time looking up at a car raised on the grease rack so he can point out disc brakes, ball joints and so on.

"What you don't know," he tells his students, "can cost you money or even your life."

Lawasaka says women mostly are in complete ignorance about the car they drive. "What goes on under the hood is more complex to them than the mysteries of life."

He begins with basics such as how to check if oil is needed. "Over-oiling is as bad as under-oiling," he says.

His students bombard him with questions and he answers them all.

"You ladies must be aware of what is happening," he says. "I don't want any of you stalled on a highway late at night because you failed your car."

Many of the women students admitted the first reaction to the course was laughter.

"I got a lot of kidding at first," said a young store cashier. "Then when I told my husband about a minor repair we needed and saved a big bill his laughter changed to respect."

A grandmother exclaimed, "I just changed my fan belt. Was I delighted. I've driven for 24 years and did not even know my car had a fan belt."

A college student said, "My boyfriend's a car nut. I figured I'd take the course just so I could talk to him. Now he's asking me questions."

Mrs. Ruth Rosson gave a tribute to Mrs. Leona White, retiring president who helped organize the association.

Teachers interested in joining the association are urged to attend the next meeting scheduled for September 6.

Specialist Explores Happiness In Marriage

Some people believe that of all the millions of people in the world, two individuals are predestined for each other and will find supreme happiness in their union. Others believe that providence has decreed a marriage for a purpose.

"These unscientific ideas about mate selection help us understand why many people are averse to finding in science and explanation of why people fall in love," said Texas A&M University family life education specialist Dorothy Taylor.

But, like all behavior, love and marriage are subject to observation and study, according to Miss Taylor.

The specialist said that some of the words used to describe marriages that seem to be working out well are difficult to pin down. One such word is "happiness."

"In common currency, happiness is a state of mind that carries a sense of pleasantness or excitement with it," the Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialist said. "There are two problems involved when we talk about the 'happy couple' or happiness in marriage."

The first is: when is happiness real and when does it only seem real? And secondly, what makes a couple happy?

Happiness isn't the same as satisfaction or adjustment. Many couples seem to lack much vitality in their relationship, but they appear and feel satisfied with it.

Other couples are quite dissatisfied with their spouse, but they're adjusted to the way things are, and wouldn't want to change.

"This question poses problems for investigators," Miss Taylor said. "The happier a couple is, the less they seem to stop and think about it. There may be a number of different and complicated formulas for the success that makes a couple happy."

"They depend on the partner's needs, abilities and ideals, and the combination of these that they work out in their relationship. The 'flavor' is easier to notice than the recipe that contributes to making it."

She said that communication is important. How can couples fulfill each other's needs or wants without knowing what these are, and without having the skill to find out? How can they decide together what to do, unless each can express differences?

How can couples work out solutions to problems unless each can tell the other honestly what he feels he can or cannot do about them?

But couples may refuse to communicate because one or both don't feel capable of answering the other's real needs.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

Planning a vacation? Up, it's you and not your money! up and away - make sure Many travelers have fallen victim to phony travel promotions.

The most common scheme is promoted through extensive advertising or direct solicitation of groups, such as teachers or government employees, and especially students. The offer may include round-trip fare, accommodations, and additional services at bargain rates.

The fraudulent promoter requires a deposit or even the total price in advance. He accepts only cash and rarely gives you a receipt. Once he has collected from a sufficient number of victims, he'll disappear without a trace. And you're stuck - no vacation and no money!

Be careful when taking charter flights! While many are true savings for group tours, some turn out to be nothing but gyms. One travel agent booked flights resulting in the stranding of 1,100 passengers and a loss of nearly $500,000! Check with several travel agencies before making final arrangements.

Vacations offered in connection with property selling are also popular schemes. An all-expense paid weekend in Florida is hard to pass up. The promoters assure there's no obligation to buy. They just want you to "take a look" at some newly developed land, which they'll sell at extremely low prices. Be careful! Your tour guides are really expert high pressure salesmen and may talk you into buying property you never wanted.

Another trick is gimmick advertising, which proves to be more misleading than actually fraudulent. Even legitimate agencies carry such pamphlets and brochures. For instance, you may see this headline: "$169 to Greece!" It sounds pretty good, but as you read on, you discover this price carries many stipulations: it includes only one-way fare, the flight leaves from Chicago, the offer is good only if you're 26 or younger, etc. If by any chance you're able to follow these limitations, is it really worth it to you?

To avoid being stranded at the airport, dockside, or train station, deal only with reputable travel agencies or group tour promoters. Be certain your contract for passage states that you can get a refund of your money if the flight is cancelled for any reason. Make sure you understand exactly what the price covers - and what it doesn't.

You can relax and enjoy your vacation if you've taken a little extra care planning it!

BUSINESS REVIEW

Service Is Key To Hefley-Stedman Success

Hefley-Stedman Motor Company, a leader in auto sales and service for more than 50 years, combines old time friendly service with up-to-date knowledge of the automobile business.

The auto dealership first opened in the corner building across from the Cameron Post Office. In 1925 they moved into more spacious quarters at the present location, 115 N. Houston. Further expansion included a used car corner at Central and 2nd streets and parking facilities opposite.

H. H. Stedman owner of the local Ford - Mercury dealership, said "We have built our business on service." Ford Motor Company recognized this when they presented him with a large plaque engraved: "In recognition of his outstanding record in providing the highest quality of service throughout his organization for the complete satisfaction of his customers."

Behind the "highest quality of service" are Hefley Stedman Motor Company employees who have a combined work record of more than 110 years with the firm. Alvin Meyer, office manager, leads the list with 30 years at the local auto agency. In the Parts Department are Vernon Reimer, 20 years with Hefley Stedman Motor Co. and Dana Monroe, 14 years.

Service Department personnel include Louis Vrazel foreman, 15 years at Hefley-Stedman; Simon Rangel, 18 years; Edward Dohnalik, Steve Basonic and Richard Vega.

In the Sales Department are Sam Janes, who has many years experience in auto sales including 5 years at Hefley-Stedman, and Dean White, a veteran of 10 years experience in auto sales.

I. T. Gilbert Is A Top Salesman For Mutual Of Omaha

You win the Master Builders Club award by top salesmanship and service with Mutual of Omaha.

That is what Ivey T. Gilbert, Milam County representative of the famous insurance company, delivers.

He is one of Mutual of Omaha's top 12 salesmen in the country, cited January, 1970, as a member of the Master Builders Club of Mutual of Omaha Insurance and its affiliate, United Benefit Life Insurance Company.

So Gilbert's presentation is timely. And a Mutual of Omaha policy pays and pays, because, he points out of one clause.

He won similar recognition in a plaque presented in January, 1968.

Gilbert is a sales and service representative for Milam County, a responsibility he has held for five years. He has a total of 13 years experience in the insurance sales field.

Four times a year he joins with other representatives of Mutual of Omaha in study course and seminars to update information on today's service needs for both companies and what other companies are offering.

Gilbert cites one policyholder's experience in which the man received $15,000 for one disability for recurring health problems due to the one deficiency.

It is a recurrence clause very few health and accident companies provide which can be used over and over and over for the same disability.

Born in Buckholts, Gilbert graduated from Sharp High School before it was consolidated about 15 years ago. He is married, and he and his wife Pat have three children: Ronald, 16; Brenda, 13; and Donna, 10. The Gilberts live on West 22nd Street.

We salute you for outstanding achievements during the past year. The exceptional job you have done in offering the best in professional insurance counseling and service to folks in this area has earned you membership in the coveted Presidents Club - national symbol of excellence.

Why not ask this award-winning to advise you on your personal insurance needs, too? He'll be happy to do so without cost or obligation. Call him today.

COUNTY NEWS

County Oil Production Totals 173,893 Barrels

Sale of Milam County oil and gas production accounted for $618,014 of the county's economic output for 1971, according to a study by Texas Mid Continent Oil & Gas Assn.

In producing 173,893 barrels of crude oil and 39 billion cu. ft. of natural gas, the county ranked 177th in Texas. Value of its crude oil was $612,103; natural gas value was $5,911.

The county is among 190 Texas counties with oil and gas production value topping $100,000 although 211 counties produce oil and gas.

"Milam County oil and gas wells made a significant contribution to Texas' share of the nation's energy needs last year, but growing demand is sapping reserves in Texas faster than they can be replaced," Robert A.

Bushman, Association president, said. "As fewer new fields are discovered, due to less drilling, the continuing strong economy and tax base of many Texas counties may now depend on updating Texas oil conservation laws to encourage wider use of new recovery technology," he said.

The Association study showed that Milam County farmers, ranchers, and other royalty owners received $77,252 as their share of the production.

The county's wells generated $28,156 in crude oil production taxes for state government and $443 in state taxes on natural gas. Oil and gas producers spent $1,252,217 in drilling 32 wells in the county last year $581,295 of which was lost in drilling 15 dry holes.

Texas Employment Commission figures showed 95 oil and gas industry employees in the county last year, with an annual payroll of $405,396.

Students To Speak At Farm Bureau

Seven students from Milam County will speak on "Americanism and Citizenship" on June 15 at 8 p.m. at the Milam County Farm Bureau office at 110 N. Travis.

These students will be judged to see who will attend the students citizenship seminar which will be held at Baylor on July 18 through 22. Farm Bureau directors voted to send three students this year.

Judges will be Dr. and Mrs. Gibney Kendrick Jr. of Marlin.

The public is invited to hear these students speak. Refreshments will be served.

Farm Bureau Sets Six-Nation Tour

The Texas Farm Bureau will sponsor a 22-day, six-nation tour to Africa this Fall. Since the tour program began in 1965, TFB tours have travelled to Europe three times, once around the world, to South America and to Australia and the South Pacific.

This year's goodwill tour will be divided into two sections, one leaving Dallas on Sept. 14 with the second section departing on an identical itinerary one week later, Sept. 21. Each section is limited to 26 persons due to a shortage of accommodations and motor cars in the game parks.

Only the second section (leaving Sept. 21) still has openings. Interested persons can contact the Texas Farm Bureau, Box 489, Waco, Texas, 76703. The tour rate of $2,195 includes round-trip economy-class air fare from Dallas, all hotels, meals, tips, sightseeing transfers, visas, airport taxes, etc.

Feedlot Waste Hearing Set

By Bill McCutchen

A public hearing on waste control measures affecting confined feeding of animals and poultry is scheduled for June 14th in Austin. A hearing commission of the Texas Water Quality Board will conduct a hearing in the Auditorium - Hearing Room in the State Highway Department building at the corner of East 11th street and North Brazos in Austin at 9 a.m. on June 14.

Any person desiring to present evidence pertaining to the proposed order may do so at this hearing. Copies of the proposed order may be obtained from the Director of Hearings and Enforcement of the Texas Quality Board, P. O. Box 13246 Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

The regulation as proposed applies to all confined feeding operations with 50 or more animal units in confinement, wherever the enclosed area allotted per animal unit is 10,000 square feet or less and the confinement areas are used for more than 90 days per year.

As proposed, every person owning, operating, or controlling a confined feeding operation which produces wastes which affect or threaten the quality of water in the state must comply with the provisions of this regulation.

Any such confined feeding operation must properly be registered in accordance with this regulation by Jan. 1, 1974, unless the operation is regulated under a valid waste control order of the Texas Water Quality Board.

The regulation as proposed will affect quite a few livestock and poultry operations in Milam county and I would urge producers to obtain a copy of the regulation, study it, and attend the Austin hearing if you wish to present any information to the commission or wish detailed clarifications on any item in the proposed regulation.

Bryan Livestock Ordered To Comply

Bryan Livestock Commission Company, Inc., operator of a posted stockyard at Bryan, has been ordered to comply with trust account requirements of the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

The firm consented to the order. It waived oral hearing, and neither admitted nor denied the charges contained in an administrative complaint issued by USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration (USDA Release 3788-71).

Officials said the firm's trust account is currently in balance. The cease and desist order -- like a permanent injunction -- was issued to prohibit future violations of the Act.

Formal Proofs

A lost birth certificate or marriage license no longer poses the problem it once did for veterans seeking veterans benefits, Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Officer Director, reports.

Less formal proof of marriage and birth are now acceptable, under a regulation initiated last October, when this information is needed to establish claims for higher benefit payments.

A veteran's or widow's certified statement or marriage is now sufficient for applications for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphan children, provided neither he nor his wife has been married before, and VA has no contradictory information on file.

trol over rainfall frequency, but precautions can be taken that will help the situation when it occurs. Proper stocking of livestock will help prevent overuse or overgrazing the permanent type grass.

Rotating the livestock from one pasture to another will give the grass a rest period and time to recover from grazing.

Locating livestock water in each pasture in the proper place will help the management and provide better distribution of grazing. Salting locations away from the water supply will also help.

Proper management of the pastures during each growing season can pay big dividends during dormant or semi-dormant seasons.

For additional information or assistance on pasture management, contact your local Soil Conservation Office or Soil & Water Conservation District Supervisors.

Mineworkers Develop Own Language

By Jeremy Toye
Retuer Correspondent

JOHANNESBURG
Fanakalo, the unique language of South Africa's mines, means roughly "tell it like it is," which is just what the hybrid mixture of English, Afrikaans, and African tongues aims to do.

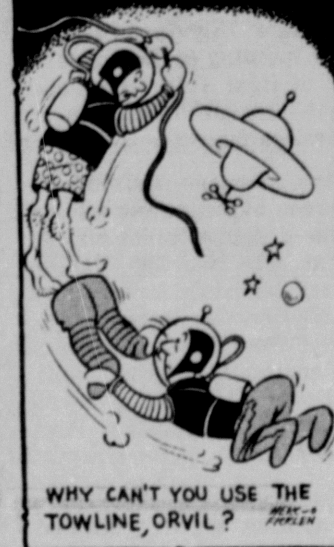

With this nation's vast mineral wealth attracting large numbers of would-be miners from surrounding countries -- in spite of what seems miserably poor pay to many European visitors -- some means of common communication had to be established.

The result, unplanned and haphazard, was Fanakalo, a mixture which has now become so established that a dictionary has been published to help new recruits to the mining world.

The Fanakalo translation of "dictionary" -- "lo buk ka lo izwi" (the book that tells the words) illustrates the limitations of the language. But for people who may not have known what "dictionary" was in their own tongue, it serves its function.

At a mine ceremony, the main speech, originally in English, was translated into Fanakalo. The African audience, although composed of an enormous variety of different peoples, could follow every word.

THE CAMERON HERALD

AND AS NEAR AS YOUR MAILBOX

"Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave?"

When you display the Flag, you're saying a lot about yourself.

You're saying that you believe in the principles on which our government was founded. And, most of all, that you have faith in the future of our country.

It also means that you want to stand up and be counted.

As members of the community, we're concerned that some Americans appear to have forgotten the true meaning of the Flag. The Flag itself may remind them.

So, display the Flag. It's not "flag-waving." It's not an idle gesture.
It shows your colors.

Prague To See Old Cars Race

By Marcus Ferrar
Reuter Correspondent

PRAGUE
The dawn silence of Prague's Old Town will soon be shattered by the splutter and roar of antique autos hitting the trail on the world's longest non-stop old car drive.

The 500-mile trip from Prague to Bratislava and back on June 17 will be the climax of the sporting season for Czechoslovakia's thriving veteran car clubs.

The antique car enthusiasts - their hobby partly prompted by a chronic shortage of new vehicles - cherish some 1,400 registered historic models, ranging from pre-war Czechoslovak-built Aeros, Skodas and Tatra to occasional Bugattis, De Sotos and M.G.S.

The Prague-Bratislava--Prague non-stop drive, first held in 1970 to commemorate the pre-war "1,000 miles of Czechoslovakia" race, this year attracted 20 entries from abroad - one-third of the total entry.

The star foreign entry will be Prince Von Schoenberg of Austria, winner of the old car race last year in Sweden. Others will come from France, West Germany, East Germany and Italy.

The rally is organized by the Prague Veteran Car Club (its title is in English).

The fastest time of the last two races was clocked by a 65-year-old tweed-capped engineer, Jaroslav Hausman, in 1971. He completed the course in his red 1935 M.G. at an astonishing average speed of 55 miles an hour.

His time was astonishing because Czechoslovak roads are often narrow, roughly cobbled and lavishly endowed with temporary speed restrictions, train crossings and small villages.

But the organizers from on the idea of any roadhogs using the race as a speeding spree. This year the maximum average speed will be 38 miles an hour, and the minimum 19 miles an hour.

An overall winner will be declared. But this will take into account the age of the car, the capacity of its engine, and the drivers' ability to pass an oral test by the judges on the road regulations in force on the route.

The third round will be televised, life and in color, Saturday, June 17, (4:30-6:30 p.m.) and the final on Sunday, June 18 (4:7:00 p.m.), all on Channel 24. In addition, a preview of the U.S. Open, with highlights of the second round and a history of Pebble Beach, will be telecast Friday, June 16 (9:30-10:00 p.m.).

Approximately $200,000 is at stake, with $30,000 going to the winner.

Chris Schenkel, Jim McKay, Bill Flemming, Bud Palmer, Henry Longhurst and Frank Gifford are on the golf broadcasting team to report the 72nd U.S. Open. Expert analysis and color commentary will be provided by Byron Nelson and Dave Marr.

Pebble Beach is one of the most famous golf courses in America. It is also one of the most beautiful and certainly offers some of the toughest challenges to confront professional or amateur. The famous 18th hole is known as "The Finisher" - the hole that finishes a round and could well finish a competitor. No one has ever gotten to the green pin high, in two strokes. This is the hole that could decide the tournament.

The two men who will draw the most attention at the 1972 U.S. Open are Lee Trevino, who beat Jack Nicklaus in an 18-hole playoff in last year's tournament at Merion, and Nicklaus himself. Nicklaus won the Masters earlier this year and has hopes of achieving the ultimate honor in the world of golf: a sweep of golf's "Big Four" tournaments. The U.S. Open is the second part of the "impossible dream" Championship (both to be televised on the ABC Television Network this summer).

The 150-man field of the U.S. Open is a veritable roll call of the world's great golfers. Those exempted from qualifying are the last five U.S. Open champions: Trevino, Tony Jacklin, Orville Moody and Nicklaus (Trevino also won in 1968); the last five PGA champions: Nicklaus, Dave Stockton, Ray Floyd, Julius Boros and Don January; and the 1971 U.S. Amateur Champion, Gary Cowan.

Knights Enjoy Weekend Trip

The Heart of Texas Knights took a weekend trip on May 22 and 23, meeting at Gerthe Motors Saturday morning at 8:30. The club left in two groups, the first at 8:30 and the other at 2 p.m.

The first group had motorcycles, a Volkswagen van, and a pickup truck with a boat. The second group had three motorcycles and a car. They all met at Stillhouse Lake to enjoy a weekend of fishing, skiing, boating, eating, and riding.

There were no accidents, but there were about 13 sunburns. The club called it a very pleasant weekend.
